Main works to commence in January 2024

The NSW Government is investing $110.2 million in the Cowra Hospital Redevelopment, which remains on track to deliver modern and high-quality health services closer to home.

Following the appointment of Richard Crookes Constructions to build the redevelopment, site establishment for the redevelopment is underway, with main works construction to commence in January 2024.

The site establishment works have included installation of the site sheds, completing additional site investigation works as well as pedestrian and vehicular access points. Richard Crookes Constructions understands the management of traffic, parking and access around the hospital site is important. A management strategy for construction worker vehicles and traffic for the duration of the project has been prepared.

The strategy identifying traffic and contractor parking arrangements will be managed by Richard Crookes Constructions and ensures the site around the hospital is reserved for staff, patient and visitor parking.

For more information about the contractor traffic and contractor parking arrangements and to read the Fact Sheet visit the project website.
